Wilson Cemetery

This is a small cemetery located off Highway 225 about 7 miles east of Greenbrier. In 1980, it was surveyed by Harley and Dora Henderson and Vivian Johnson of the Faulkner County Historical Society. There are 37 legible markers and approximately 20 to 25 graves marked with fieldstones. In the large concrete slab, is a hand-etched concrete marker that reads "Walls by Mollie." There are also two rock wall enclosures about 3 feet high which presumably contain graves. The concrete marker for Francis McCrackin was written on three lines: "Francis," "McCrac," and "kin," leading the 1980 surveyors to believe it was the grave of Francis "McCray." Wilson Cemetery was surveyed and photographed on November 8, 2002 by Glenna Shumate and Sondra Johnson.
